No player, official, sponsor nor spectator needs to tolerate harassment, belligerency, defamation, or poor sportsmanship from any ADO Member Person. However, a remedy for such infractions is not the sole purview of the ADO. Where the incident occurred has a significant impact on who provides subsequent disciplinary action.
  - a) Non-ADO and non-association-sponsored tournaments and matches: Problems in public or private venues are the province of the injured party, the owner(s), or employees who may seek redress under local state law by ejection, police intervention or arrest.

However, with the exception of expulsion from a given tournament by the Tournament Director to restore order, the ADO recommends that any disciplinary action be the result of Member/Board consideration. Once disciplinary action has been taken by the Member Board, the latter may petition the ADO to support, endorse or extend the Member's action on a national level at ADO sponsored or hosted events.
  - c) ADO-sponsored events: An infraction or altercation at an ADO--sponsored event would definitely be cause for disciplinary action--censure, probation, fine, suspension or expulsion by the ADO.

- b) The Area Manager will prepare, within 10 days of (a), a letter to the accused informing them of the ADO's intent to take disciplinary action and requesting them to submit their side of the issue.
- c) Upon receipt of the accused's statement (or 10 days, whichever comes first), the Area Manager will send/email copies of all documentation to each Board member, asking for individual votes on recommended action. Disciplinary action requires a two-thirds (2/3) majority vote of the Board. The decision is final.

- e) Fines: When a Member/Member Person/Individual Member found guilty of conduct unbecoming a group or person, as the case may be, is to be fined for said offense, the President, following consultation with the other members of the Board (who shall assist the President in the determination of the amount of such fine) shall levy the fine.
- f) If the fine is not paid to the Chief Financial Officer within 30 days of notification, the Member/Member Person/Individual Member will be automatically suspended from all ADO-sponsored events for a period of one (1) calendar year, effective from the date the Chief Financial Officer notifies the President of payment default.
